MISCELLANEOUS TEAM NOTES

LOOKING TO CONTINUE SUCCESS AGAINST KC

After winning the regular-season series in 2011 against Kansas City – their first since 2007 – the Revs look to continue their recent success against KC on Saturday ... the Revs have earned at least one point in each of their last three matches against Kansas City, going 2-0-1 since the Revs' 1-0 win on Oct. 16, 2010 ... previously, New England was winless (0-5-1) in six consecutive matches dating back to Oct. 11, 2008.

REVS READY TO BOUNCE BACK AFTER SAN JOSE

Saturday's 1-0 loss in San Jose in the teams' season opener was the third year in a row the Revs failed to win the first game of the season ... however, recent history indicates they might bounce back in match number two ... after starting the season winless at LA in 2010 (1-0 loss) and 2011 (1-1 draw) the last two seasons, the Revs earned a win in the following match both years, defeating D.C. in game two both seasons: at home on April 3, 2010 (2-0) and last March 26 at RFK Stadium (2-1).

SUITCASE WILL GET PLENTY OF USE IN EARLY 2012

Beginning the 2012 season with four of its first five matches on the road, the Revolution continue its road stretch at Kansas City on Saturday ... the team will play a single home game – the 2012 home opener against Portland (March 24) – in a five-week span from March 10 to April 5 ... after opening the season last weekend in San Jose, the Revs will visit LA and Dallas in upcoming weeks ... after returning home from the LA-Dallas road trip, the team will have already traveled 13,290 air miles in the first four weeks of the season ... including the team's preseason trip to Tucson, Ariz., that immediately preceded the season opener at San Jose, the Revs will have traveled 18,030 air miles from the end of February through early April.

SHALRIE STANDS ALONE

With his start last Saturday at San Jose, captain Shalrie Joseph became the Revs' all-time career appearances leader with 244 appearances in his 10-year MLS career ... he entered Saturday's game tied with current head coach, and former teammate, Jay Heaps with 243 appearances ... Joseph became the club leader in starts in the final game of 2011, passing Heaps ... Joseph has been a stalwart in the team's lineup since 2003, and has served as club captain each of the last three seasons (2010-present).

MATT IS STILL MR. MARCH

Despite picking up his first-ever loss in the month of March on Saturday night at San Jose, Matt Reis remains tough to crack in the season's first month, posting a 4-1-1 career record, an 0.66 goals against average and two shutouts in six career contests in March ... Reis has played at least 20 games in every other month of the season, with April being his second-best statistical month with a 1.02 career goals against average, nine shutouts and a 14-6-7 record in 28 appearances.

FRESH FACES TAKE THE FIELD

A total of seven Revs players made their Revolution and/or Major League Soccer debuts on Saturday night at San Jose, including five of the team's starting 11 ... Blake Brettschneider (D.C. United), Fernando Cardenas (America de Cali/Colombia), John Lozano (America de Cali/Colombia), Kelyn Rowe (2012 draft pick) and Clyde Simms (D.C. United) all started, while Lee Nguyen (Becamex Binh Duong/Vietnam) and Tyler Polak (2012 draft pick) came on as second-half subs.

TWO MORE NEW FACES ADDED THIS WEEK

The Revs signed two more players in the last week to bring the roster to a complete 28 players ... after signing midfielder Jeremiah White on March 9, the team added defender Flo Lechner on March 14 ... the signings bring the roster up to the 28-man limit, and allows the Revolution to use $70,000 extra in allocation money ($35,000 each roster spots 29 and 30 being left vacant), per MLS Roster Rules.

WHITE LONG TIME COMING

Jeremiah White, whom the Revs drafted in the third round of the 2004 MLS SuperDraft, finally signed with the club earlier this month ... prior to signing, he spent two separate training spells with the team during preseason ... he originally with Serbia's OFK Beograd out of Wake Forest after initially passing on MLS ... after stops in Greece (Panserraiko), France (FC Gueugnon), Denmark (AGF Aarhus, with fellow Rev Benny Feilhaber) and Saudi Arabia (Al-Ettifaq), White most recently played with Poland's GKS Belchatow ... although no hard statistics on the time between being drafted and signing with a club, MLS believes White holds the league record for longest time between the two events.

GOING WITH THE FLO

The Revs rounded out their defensive corps on Wednesday by signing German right back Florian "Flo" Lechner on a free transfer from 2 Bundesliga side Karlsruher SC ... Lechner comes to MLS after spending his entire professional career in Germany ... he made 12 league appearances and two starts in the DFB Cup in the second half of 2011 with Karlsruher SC ... Lechner spent the majority of his career at VfB Stuttgart, where he helped the club gain repeated promotion from the third division of German soccer to the Bundesliga ... he will formally join the team upon the receipt of his ITC and U.S. P-1 Visa.

JAY HEAPS FACTS & FIGURES

Jay Heaps, 35, is the sixth head coach in club history, and is also the second-youngest active coach in MLS (behind D.C. United's Ben Olsen) ... Heaps had a nine-year playing career in MLS, first with the Miami Fusion beginning in 1999 - when he was drafted second overall in the MLS College Draft before earning MLS Rookie of the Year honors that season - through June 2001 ... he was traded to his hometown club, New England, in June 2001 where he concluded his career before retiring following the 2009 season ... Heaps remains the club's all-time leader in minutes (21,619) and is second in appearances (243) and starts (238).

WHO'S LEFT?

With Chris Tierney suspended for last Saturday's season opener at San Jose, head coach Jay Heaps was always going to have to name a temporary replacement for him in the starting lineup last week ... however, when presumptive replacement Darrius Barnes went down with a calf injury in training on Friday - the day before the match - Heaps was left with an even bigger quandary ... Heaps ended up starting center back A.J. Soares on the left against San Jose, but the second-year center back picked up a knee knock and was subbed off in the second half ... 2012 second-round draft pick Tyler Polak, a natural left back but only 19 years old, came on for Soares and finished the game at left back ... heading into this week's game, Tierney is once again eligible, but with three of the team's four natural center backs injured, Heaps now has a center back question.

CENTRAL (DEFENSE) TO THE ISSUE

With three of the team's four central defenders on this week's early week Injury Report, Jay Heaps now has a situation at center back for Saturday's game against Kansas City after last week dealing with a left back situation ... only Stephen McCarthy, who started last weekend in San Jose and just made the positional switch to center back from central midfield this preseason, is 100 percent healthy ... A.J. Soares (questionable) has a knee injury, while John Lozano (doubtful) has a hip flexor strain and Darrius Barnes (out) has a calf strain.

BRAND-NEW FACES UP FRONT A RECENT FIRST

With newly-signed Fernando Cardenas and Blake Brettschneider starting at forward on Saturday against San Jose, it marked the first time since 2003 that the Revs started an entirely new front-running tandem on opening day, without any hold-overs from the previous year ... in every season from 2003 to 2011, the Revolution started at least one hold-over player from the prior year's season opener for some continuity:

- Taylor Twellman (2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007)
- Pat Noonan (2005, 2006)
- Adam Cristman (2007, 2008)
- Kenny Mansally (2008, 2009)
- Kheli Dube (2009, 2010)
- Zack Schilawski (2010, 2011)

The last two seasons in which two new forwards started in back-to-back years came in 2002 (Alex Pineda Chacon and Mamadou Diallo) and 2003 (Taylor Twellman and Wolde Harris).

REIS MAKES IT 250 IN ONE AREA ...

With his start at San Jose on Saturday, Matt Reis became just the sixth goalkeeper in MLS history to make at least 250 career starts ... he moved into a tie for fifth place with Tony Meola on MLS' career goalkeeper starts list ... Kevin Hartman leads all goalkeepers in starts with 382, followed by Joe Cannon (306), Nick Rimando (289) and Zach Thornton (276) ... of his 250 career starts, 215 have come with New England (2003-present) and 35 with LA (1998-2002) ... Reis has 255 career goalkeeper appearances, which ranks fifth in MLS history.

... AND APPROACHING 1,000 IN ANOTHER

Matt Reis enters Saturday's game at Kansas City with 993 career saves spanning his 15-year MLS career ... when he accumulates seven more saves, he will become the sixth player in MLS history to reach the 1,000-save mark ... Kevin Hartman leads all goalkeepers with 1,377 saves, followed by Joe Cannon (1,232), Tony Meola (1,136), Nick Rimando (1,064) and Scott Garlick (1,021).

ROOKIES IN THE FOLD

2012 draft selections Kelyn Rowe, Tyler Polak, Alec Purdie and Mike Roach were each regulars for the Revs on the field during the 2012 preseason, and were among the squad's preseason scoring leaders ... Rowe, Purdie and Roach all performed well in the midfield, with Rowe picking up four goals and four assists in seven contests, while Purdie had one goal and two assists and Roach one goal.

Rookie midfielder Kelyn Rowe – age 20 and whom the Revs selected with the third overall pick in the 2012 MLS SuperDraft out of UCLA – was the Revs' surprising leading scorer in pre-season with four goals and four assists in six games played ... Rowe factored in his first Revs goal just 38 minutes into his competitive action after sending a cross in against FC Tucson which Sainey Nyassi converted ... in two games against Boston College, Rowe recorded two goals (on Feb. 10) and two assists (on Feb. 15) in a pair of wins ... at the FC Tucson Desert

After the SuperDraft, the Revs selected four players in the 2012 MLS Supplemental Draft ... the Revs chose forward Dawyne "Rick" Smith from Bethel University, forward/midfielder Alec Purdie from Indiana, midfielder/defender Kevin Garcia from Villanova and forward Michael Roach from Saint Louis ... all four players participated in preseason camp, with Garcia departing following the team's trip to Casa Grande, Ariz., to return to Villanova to finish school, while Smith departing training camp at its conclusion ... Purdie and Roach signed with the club earlier this month.
